

Individual Reflection – Week 8

Amanda Cyrén

What do I want to learn or understand better?

Since the last sprint now is finished the remaining time of the project will be spent on reflecting on our work and what we can learn from it and improve for future projects. I hope to achieve this together with my group by discussing the topics given to us on Canvas.

How can I help someone else, or the entire team, to learn something new?

As previously stated in my individual reflection from last week our current main goal is to reflect on our work process and how we can learn from it. By sharing my thoughts and listen to my team members, I hope that I can contribute to this.

What is my contribution towards the team's application of Scrum?

This week I was the scrum master and therefore scheduled and planned our meetings. I have also contributed to the sprint planning, sprint review, sprint retrospective and team reflection and delivered all my assigned user stories.

What is my contribution towards the team's deliveries?

Same as the previous question. I have by pair programming worked on the pliancy and some design adjustments to the smileys. I have also worked on error message handling when a user is trying to register without connection to a network or to the database.
