

- what do I want to learn or understand better?

I got the opportunity to do some UI-related work this week by implementing animations in our app, I had some experience with that before so I didn't really learn a whole lot. Next week we might implement push notifications which I did some research on this week but still there lots of uncertainties. So that is something I want to learn more.

- how can I help someone else, or the entire team, to learn something new?

I've been trying to utilize githubs pull request review system where I've been leaving comments on things that I think can improve the quality of our code base.

- what is my contribution towards the team's use of Scrum?

Same as last week, I have participated in all our scrum meetings, daily checkups, and created user stories and all things that entails. I was not PO this week which was pretty relaxing for a change.

- what is my contribution towards the team's deliveries?

I completed all my user stories and participated in all meetings as well as contributing to the team reflection.
