

Individual Reflection Week 5

What do I want to learn or understand better?

This week I have put a lot of time and energy on creating a design for the app in figma. Next week I want to understand how this can be implemented in Android studios. Therefore I want to understand better how Android studio's tools for design work and how I can implement this in the best way.

How can I help someone else, or the entire team, to learn something new?

We are now getting more and more comfortable with each other and we are getting better at questioning thing and asking when there is something we do not understand. I think that I can help, and learn something new, by pairing up and working with different members of the team. This is because we all have different personalities, perspectives and knowledge.

What is my contribution towards the team's use of Scrum?

This week I have been a part of the sprint planning, the spring review and team reflection meeting. We all updated the backlog together and I wrote some user stories together with the rest of my team. After this I wrote acceptance criterias for the user stories that I had together with the other team mates that also was a part of these user stories. During the sprint I have then done all of my user stories and participated in the daily checkups. My role for this week was a developer.

What is my contribution towards the team's deliveries?

I have contributed to the team's deliveries by finishing my user stories. This week my user stories were regarding the design of the application. We created a suggestion of the design of the application based on the previous designs and the clients comments.