Individual Reflection – Week 5

Philip Winsnes

What do I want to learn or understand better?

This week have featured many hours of interaction design in Figma. Something that I'm comfortable with since before. Therefore I didn't find anything that made me want to understand something better.

The coming sprint we will be implementing the UI-design into the app and that is something I find interesting and something I want to learn better. Especially to experience how it is to develop a modular UI which is something we want to work towards.

How can I help someone else, or the entire team, to learn something new?

I refer to my previous answers for this question. This week I have really tried to take time for helping others. I find it more and more important to always have an open discussion regarding what ever is on our mind.

What is my contribution towards the team's application of Scrum?

I contributed in the weekly Scrum-meetings as sprint planning, daily check-ups, demo and team reflection. This week I have been the product owner along with Johan, making it my second time.

What is my contribution towards the team's deliveries?

As a whole team, we have mainly been split in half during this sprint. I have focused on completing the final design of the UI. As a product owner, I have gained feedback on our team's deliveries and discussed what the next goal is for the project.
